General Information for Completing the Year 2001 Florida Intangible Personal Property Tax Return for Individual and Joint Filers

What is the Florida Intangible Personal Property Tax? It is an annual tax based on the market value, as of January 1, of the intangible personal property owned by a Florida resident or other person obligated to pay.

Reference? Rule 12C-2, Florida Administrative Code (F.A.C.), and Chapter 199, Florida Statutes (F.S.).

What is Intangible Personal Property? It is defined as all personal property that is not itself valuable, but is valuable because of what it represents. The most common examples are:

- Shares of stock issued by any corporation.
- Bonds issued by corporations or state, county, or municipal governments outside the State of Florida.
- Accounts receivable or other loans which are not secured by real property.
- Shares or units of ownership in mutual and money market funds and limited liability companies.

Assets exempt from federal income tax are not necessarily exempt from Florida's intangible tax.

Who Must File a Return? If you are a legal resident or are domiciled in this state on January 1 of the tax year, you are required to file an intangible tax return if you own, manage, or control intangible personal property. "Domicile" or "residence" is where you have your true, fixed, and permanent home and principal establishment to which, when absent, you have the intention of returning. You are presumed to be a Florida resident if you qualify for a homestead exemption or voting rights in Florida, have a current Florida driver's license, or declare Florida residency on your personal federal income tax return. Individuals and married couples file Form DR-601I. Corporations, partnerships, affiliated groups, and fiduciaries file on Form DR-601C.

If your tax due on Line 6 is less than $60.00, you are not required to pay the tax. If you received a pre-addressed tax return we recommend you file by phone to avoid future contact by the Department. "TeleFile" information is listed on Page 9.

If you file by phone, please do not send a paper copy by mail.

When is Tax Due? Intangible tax for the year 2001 may be paid as early as January 1, 2001, and is late after June 30, 2001. Your return, payment, and supporting schedules must be postmarked no later than June 30. If the 30th falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or a legal state or federal holiday, your return must be postmarked on the first business day following the 30th. Discounts may be claimed for early payment (see Discounts on Page 6). However, they are based on the date the return is postmarked. If you file after June 30, penalty and interest must be added to your payment (see Penalties and Interest on Page 6). Extensions may be requested (see Extension of Time for Filing a Return on Page 9).

Exemptions - The following types of intangible property are exempt from taxation (non-taxable):

1. Money - this includes cash on hand, cash in the bank, certificates of deposit, annuities, and similar instruments.
2. Units of a registered investment company which is organized under a trust agreement (unit investment trust or Massachusetts-type business trust) shall be exempt if 90% of the net asset value of its portfolio of assets is exempt from tax. If the fund is incorporated, the entire fund is taxable.

3. All intangible property held in an employee welfare, benefit, or retirement plan qualified under section 401, U.S. Internal Revenue Code (I.R.C.), as amended.
4. All intangible property held in an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) qualified under sections 408 (IRA), 408a (Roth IRA), and 530 (Education IRA), U.S. I.R.C., as amended.
5. All intangible property held in a deferred compensation plan that is offered to governmental employees and is qualified under section 457, U.S. I.R.C., as amended.
6. Interest in a general partnership.
7. Interest in a limited partnership not registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
8. Franchises.
9. Bonds, notes, and other obligations issued by the State of Florida; its counties, municipalities, or other taxing districts; and by the U.S. government and its agencies, territories and possessions, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, U.S. Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and the Northern Marianas. These investments may be taxable when held in a fund. If the fund is incorporated, the entire fund is taxable. (The exemption does not apply to municipal bonds issued by other states.)
10. Notes and other obligations, except bonds, to the extent secured by a lien on real property located inside or outside the state.
11. Real estate mortgage investment conduits (REMICs) and financial asset securitization trusts (FASITs) secured by mortgage.
12. Intangible property owned by tax exempt religious, tax exempt educational, or tax exempt charitable institutions qualified under section 501(c)(3), U.S. I.R.C., as amended.
13. Accounts receivable arising out of the normal course of trade or business.

Personal Representatives - You are required to file Form DR-601C listing all intangible property owned by the estate if the beneficiaries are including the estate assets on their personal return. (This return is to advise the Department that the beneficiaries have filed returns, including the intangible property on their personal returns and under what number the returns have been filed.)

Confidentiality of Your Return - Intangible tax returns are not public records under Florida law. All information contained in them is held confidential by the Department. Disclosure of any information to anyone other than the authorized tax authorities of federal or state governments is a misdemeanor.

Pre-addressed Forms - If you received a pre-addressed form, please verify all information including the Social Security Number(s). If any information has changed or is incorrect, note the correct information in the Important Information Requested section on the back of your intangible tax return.

Blank Forms - If you received a form that was not pre-addressed, please print or type the name, address and social information at the top of your return (Schedule A) and on the PAYMENT COUPON attached to the bottom of the return.

Filing Status - Be sure to indicate your filing status with an "X" in the appropriate box, either as individual or joint. If your spouse is deceased and the date of death was between January 1, 2000 and December 31, 2000, you must file as an individual.

Personal Exemptions:

- A single filer receives a $20.00 tax exemption.
- A joint filer receives a $40.00 tax exemption.

The exemption has been entered on Line 6D of the Tax Calculation Worksheet to help you compute the tax due on Line 6E.

Custodians of Florida residents who are minors or have been legally declared incompetent may file a return and claim the individual exemption on behalf of the minor or incompetent using the minor's or incompetent's Social Security Number.

Only a married couple, as defined by Florida Statutes, may file a joint return and claim the joint exemption.

Agents and fiduciaries may not claim the exemption in their own right or on behalf of their principals or beneficiaries.

Use this schedule to report loans, notes, advances, and taxable accounts receivable you own. Accounts receivable arising out of your normal trade or business, are exempt. Your loans to friends or relatives should be included as taxable intangible property. Notes secured by a lien on real property are exempt and should not be reported. For tax purposes, all loans, notes or taxable accounts receivable are to be valued at their unpaid principal balance as of January 1 of the tax year, unless you can satisfactorily establish a lesser value. Enter the total value of all loans, notes, or taxable accounts receivable on the proper line on Schedule B. Total all loans, notes, advances, and taxable accounts receivable and enter the value on Line 12. Transfer this value to Schedule A, Line 1, on the return.

SCHEDULE C INSTRUCTIONS

Beneficial Interest in Any Trust

Trust beneficiaries use this schedule only when they are reporting the assets of a trust for which they are the current income beneficiary. This type of trust has a Federal Employer Identification Number assigned by the Internal Revenue Service. This schedule is used only if the trustee is not remitting the tax with Form Dr-601C, Corporate Intangible, Fiduciary Return.

You have a taxable beneficial interest if:

- You can designate the future beneficiaries without any limitation.
- You have the power to remove assets.
- You have the power to revoke the trust.

To complete Schedule C, individually list all stocks and bonds held in the trust. Enter the total value of stock on Line A and the total value of bonds on Line B of Schedule C. Report other intangible assets held in the trust on Line C. Total Lines A, B, and C on Line 13. Transfer this value to Schedule A, Line 2, on the return.

SCHEDULE D INSTRUCTIONS

Bonds

Use Schedule D for reporting all taxable bonds you owned on January 1 of the tax year. See Exemptions for information about bonds that may be exempt. This schedule requires you to provide specific information about each bond. Columns A through G are to be completed as follows:

- Column A Name of Issuer, Series - Enter the issuer and series of the bond.
- Column B Face Value Per Bond - Enter the denomination or dollar amount stated on the face of your bond.
- Column C Interest Rate - Enter the rate of interest paid to you by the bond issuer.
- Column D Maturity Date - Enter the maturity date on which you will be paid the full amount of the bond.
- Column E Number Owned - Enter the number of bonds you owned on January 1 of the tax year for the denomination shown in Column B.

Column F

Per $100 Value - Enter the quoted market price of the bond per $100 value. (Bonds have historically been valued in units of $100 and the price is generally found as the quoted market price on an exchange.) If you know the total market value per bond or the total market value for all the bonds on each line and not the per $100 value, you may skip this column.

Column G

Total Taxable Amount - Enter the total taxable amount of the bonds listed on each line. For each line, the amount is derived in one of three ways:

- If the per $100 value is known, multiply Column B by Column E, then divide the product by 100, and multiply this product by Column F.
- If the per bond value is known, multiply the market value per bond by Column E.
- If provided by your broker, enter the total market value for all bonds in Column G.

Total all entries in Column G and enter the result on Line 14. Transfer this amount to Schedule A, Line 3, on the return.

SCHEDULE E INSTRUCTIONS

Stocks, Mutuals, Money Market Funds, and Limited Partnership Interests

Determining Taxable Value - Shares of stock, money funds, or the interest of a limited partner in limited partnerships, which are registered with the Securities Exchange Commission, are valued at their closing market value on the last business day of the previous calendar year. The taxable value of these securities is to be determined based upon the following general guidelines.

Taxable value for shares or units of mutual funds, money market funds, or unit investment trusts is the net asset value (unless completely or partially exempt) on the last business day of the previous calendar year. (See Exemptions, Page 5, item 2.) All shares of stock or units of a mutual fund or money market fund owned by a Florida resident are subject to tax regardless of the physical location of the stock or unit certificates, or the location of the issuing company. (Many newspapers publish the closing value for most stocks, and mutual and money market funds in their January 1 issue. Other sources include your year-end broker statement, the local public library, and investment fund Web sites.)

Shares of stock, money market funds, mutual funds, or an interest in a limited partnership registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, which are not regularly traded on the open market, are to be valued using generally accepted methods of valuation.

Shares of stock in corporations that are closely held and are not regularly traded on the open market are to be valued using generally accepted methods of valuation. Book value is not an acceptable method of valuing closely held stock for intangible tax purposes. Rule 12C-2.010 (1) (c), Florida Administrative Code (F.A.C.), lists some acceptable valuation techniques as well as several other factors that must be considered when determining a market value for these securities. Internal Revenue Ruling 59-60 also details some methods that the Florida Department of Revenue has found acceptable.

Shares of restricted stock may be subject to a discount, reducing the taxable value. The amount of discount depends on the circumstances in each situation. Any discount taken is subject to verification by audit. Securities purchased on margin are taxable to the purchaser at their full market value. Margin loans are not deductible from the value of the securities.

Unless exempted on Page 5, item 2, mutual and money market funds are subject to intangible tax. How the mutual or money market fund is organized determines how the fund is valued for intangible tax purposes. These funds are typically organized as a corporation or a business trust, and are valued using the guidelines below:

1. Incorporated mutual or money market funds are fully taxable regardless of the kinds of assets contained within the fund's portfolio of investments. Refer to the fund's prospectus or contact the specific fund manager for determination of how the fund is organized.
2. Shares of mutual or money market funds organized as a business trust are subject to intangible tax at their net asset value. The fund's net asset value may be prorated as follows:
 - If the fund's portfolio of assets is 90% or more U.S. government securities, the shares of the fund are exempt from intangible tax.
 - If the fund's portfolio of assets is 90% or more Florida government securities, the shares of the fund are exempt from intangible tax.
 - If 90% of the fund's portfolio of assets is a combination of U.S. and Florida government securities or other exempt securities, the shares of the fund are exempt from intangible tax.
 - If less than 90% of the fund's portfolio of assets is a combination of U.S. government securities, Florida government securities and other securities such as stocks or securities issued by a state other than Florida, only the value of the U.S. government securities may be proportionately removed from the total net asset value of the fund's shares. (The exempt portion should not be entered on Schedule E).
 - If the fund's portfolio of assets is securities that are not exempt from intangible tax, the entire net asset value of the fund's shares are taxable.

Completing Schedule E

Column A	Name of Company - Enter the name of company issuing stocks.
Column B	Stock Owned - Enter the shares or units of stock owned. (Common, Preferred, Class A, etc.)
Column C	Number of Shares - Enter the number of shares of each class of stock owned.
Column D	Just Value Per Share - Enter the just value per share of stock or the market price per share.
Column E	Total Just Value - Enter the total just value or the total market value of each class of stock owned. This total is obtained by multiplying Column C by Column D.

Numeric Equivalents for Fractions Used in Stock Price Quotes

1/16 = .0625	6/16 = .375	11/16 = .6875
2/16 = .125	7/16 = .4375	12/16 = .75
3/16 = .1875	8/16 = .50	13/16 = .8125
4/16 = .25	9/16 = .5625	14/16 = .875
5/16 = .3125	10/16 = .625	15/16 = .9375

Add all entries and enter the result on Line 15. Transfer this amount to Schedule A, Line 4, on the return.

Overpayments

Overpayments of Tax - If you have overpaid your tax, you must submit an Application for Refund. For information on how to obtain forms, see Page 2, For Information and Forms section. The Department cannot process your refund claim without the submission of this form. You may not file an amended return in an overpayment situation.

Some common refund situations and corresponding documentation, which may be needed to support your refund claim, are listed below:

If tax was paid by non-Florida resident:

- Copy of a federal or state income tax return.
- Copy of homestead exemption certificate.
- Copy of voter registration card.

If tax was paid on receivables secured by real property:

- A copy of the recorded mortgage and amortization schedule.

If tax was paid on overstated or overvalued assets:

- Copy of the complete broker statement (Not 1099 - Interest Form).

If tax was paid on exempt investments:

- Bank statement for exempt bank account.
- Documentation showing registration of a retirement plan.
- Prospectus and annual report for mutual funds.
- Prospectus, notice of offering, or partnership agreement for limited partnerships.

If tax was paid on an exempt trust:

- Copy of trust agreement.
- List of trustees and beneficiaries' names and addresses.
- Broker statements for all trust assets.

Additional documentation may be necessary. Examples are:

- A copy of the original filed tax return and/or
- A copy of the cancelled check (front & back) used to pay the tax.

If you have any questions about which documentation may be necessary to support your claim for refund, please call the Refund Sub-Process at 850-488-8937 or you may write:

REFUND SUB-PROCESS
FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE
PO BOX 6470
TALLAHASSEE FL 32314-6470

Taxes paid prior to October 1, 1994, are barred from refund by a three-year statute of limitation. For taxes paid on or after October 1, 1994, but before July 1, 1999, the limitation for claiming a refund is extended to five (5) years. For taxes paid on or after July 1, 1999, the limitation for claiming a refund is three (3) years from the date the tax is paid.

Amended Returns/Underpayments

Underpayments of Tax - If you discover that intangible property was undervalued on, or omitted from, your tax return, you should file an amended return (Form DR-601I). The "amended return" box should be checked and the return is to be completed in its entirety, as if it were an original filing. Pay only the additional tax due. If the return is postmarked after June 30, you will be subject to penalty and interest. Explain by separate letter, included with the amended return, whether the property was undervalued or omitted. You may not file an amended return in an overpayment situation. (See Overpayments section, Page 8.)

Extension of Time

Extension of Time for Filing a Return - An extension must be requested on Form DR-602 by June 30. For information on how to obtain forms, see Page 2. The Department will grant an extension of time, until September 30 of the respective tax year, for filing a return and paying the tax if:

1. An extension of time to file federal income taxes has been granted.
2. A payment of 100% of last year's tax or 90% of the current year's tax accompanies the request.
3. Records necessary to complete the return are not available due to fire, illness, or death of the person having the knowledge to complete the return.
4. Reasonable cause is established under the provisions of Rule 12-13.007, F.A.C.

Important Notes on Extensions:

- All requests for extensions of time to file a return must be filed by June 30 of the tax year. Requests postmarked after this date will be denied.
- The extension period is not extended if September 30 falls on a weekend or holiday. The return and payment MUST be postmarked on or before September 30.
- The Department of Revenue will notify you only if the extension request is denied.
- While an extension may be granted, interest will be charged on all taxes not paid on or before June 30.
- An approved extension grants relief from penalty, provided you file your return and pay tax on or before September 30. If you fail to file within the extension period, the extension is rendered void, and all applicable penalties and interest accrue from the original due date of the return.
- Include a copy of your extension of time, as originally filed, with your return.
